I. INTRODUCTION

The Eastern Kern Air Pollution Control District (District) is proposing to amend Rules 301, 302 and 303. Amendments to Rules 301, 302 and 303 are designed to streamline and adjust fees to appropriately represent staff time and other related operating costs.

Appendix C: Clean copy of Proposed Revision Rule 302 Permit Fee Schedules

Appendix D: Strikeout underline of Proposed Revision Rule 302 Permit Fee Schedules Fees.

Appendix E: Clean copy of Proposed Revision Rule 303 Miscellaneous Fees.

Appendix F: Strikeout underline of Proposed Revision Rule 303 Miscellaneous Fees.

II. BACKGROUND

The District has not increased fee schedules since 2009, but the cost of operating the District has increased over that time. The District has also seen an increase in new programs and responsibilities. The proposed fees will offset costs of processing applications, other day to day operations and take into consideration inflation over the past 5 years.

III. RULE DEVELOPMENT

The District's primary responsibility is for overseeing the stationary source in Eastern Kern County and this effort is almost exclusively funded by fees imposed on those sources. The revenue to fund the District's annual operating budget comes from various sources. A minor portion of District operational activities (3.5%) are funded by state subvention. Other state grant funds, such as the Carl Moyer Program, are used for pass-through grants to fund emission reduction projects by other entities. The fees collected through a surcharge on motor vehicle registrations (DMV Fees) are also primarily used for pass-through grants to fund vehicle related emission reduction projects. The District receives a percentage to administer these programs, which covers approximately 1.6% of the District's expenses. A small portion of the DMV Fees are also used for expenditures for air monitoring services and equipment; and for outside plan development assistance. The monitoring service and equipment; and for outside plan development assistance.

The District does receive federal funds from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to partially fund operation of two PM2.5 air monitoring instruments.

Rule 301 - Currently, after a District engineers processes an application, the initial $120 filing fee is credited towards the total application processing fee. However, in reviewing the District operations and expenditures, it was determined approximately 1.1 hours of District time is utilized prior to actual engineering processing time. Currently, the weighted hourly rate of District staff is $120. Therefore, currently, the applicant is receiving a credit for engineering processing. To alleviate this process, the District is proposing to cease refunding the initial $120 filing fee.

Rule 302 – Schedule 10, Power Generation, Cogeneration and Resource Recovery includes addition of solar facilities. This is a clarification of the Rule. These facilities were not previously exempt from permitting but prior to this, solar farms were not expected to pose a significant source of air pollution, and unfortunately this is not the case. As the number of solar farms in Eastern Kern County to rapidly increased, along with the change in climate and rain patterns in the area, there has been a major effect on the air quality and surrounding communities especially from the high winds and dust in this part of Kern County. The disruption of the land from the grading associated with solar farms has been the cause and precursor to many dust events in Eastern Kern. Innumerable events have occurred because of solar farms in the area where staff has had to assess, monitor and fine sources, which has required a significant amount of staff time, the proposed fees will offset these costs.

The District is proposing to change fee schedule 303.VII to fee schedule 12 of Rule 302. A fee schedule for agricultural engines was needed to clearly outline the fees associated with these engines along with appropriately covering the processing costs and staff time spent on these types of applications

Rule 303 - Updates to Rule 303 include the increase in engineering analysis fees for 2015 from $88 to $100 per hour. This change will be implemented to cover cost of processing and engineering time to complete the applications. Additionally section 303.VII is to be removed.

IV. APPLICABILITY

Rule 301 - Provisions of Rule 301 will apply to all Authority to Construct, Permit to Operate, or Request for Exemption. The rule shall be modified to read: Every applicant for an Authority to Construct, a Permit to Operate or a Request for Exemption shall pay a filing fee of $120.

Rule 302 - Modifications of Rule 302 will apply to only two sources: Schedule 10, power generation – including solar power generation facilities; and Schedule 12, stationary agricultural facilities.

SCHEDULE 10
POWER GENERATION, COGENERATION AND RESOURCE RECOVERY
SCHEDULE

Power generation as used in this section refers to the continuous or intermittent generation of electricity for resale, including solar facilities. Permit units subject to this section shall be assessed a permit fee based on the designed or actual energy output (whichever is greater, expressed in megawatts – MW) of the permit unit in accordance with the following schedule:

MEGAWATTS (Gross Rating)	FEE
Up to 1	$3,220
Greater than 1 including 3	$8,041
Greater than 3 but less than 10	$10,131

1000 or Greater	$52,900

SCHEDULE 12
AGRICULTURAL ENGINE REGISTRATION SCHEDULE

Compression Ignition engines that burn fuel for the production of useful power for agricultural facilities (as defined in Rule 102), shall be assessed a registration fee based on the designed horsepower output (expressed in brake horsepower bhp) in accordance with the following schedule:

BRAKE HORSEPOWER	FEE
Greater than 50 but less than 100	$100
100 or greater but less than 300	$141

5,000 or greater but less than 10,000	$1,527
10,000 or greater	$1,789

Rule 303 - Modification of Section II (Application Processing) of Rule 303 will apply the engineering processing time utilized for the issuance of an Authority to Construct required by Rule 201, Title V Permit to Operate pursuant to Rule 201.1, or a Banking Certificate pursuant to Rule 210.3.

Modification (elimination) of Section VIII of Rule 303 will apply solely to Registration of Agricultural engines.

V. EXEMPTIONS

If the equipment is required to have an Authority to Construct/ Permit to Operate then it is subject to Rule 301, 302 or 303, and therefore not exempt to these Rules.

VI. ADMINISTRATIVE REQUIREMENTS

Rule 301 - Rule requires that every applicant of an Authority to Construct, a Permit to Operate or a Request for Exemption shall pay a filing fee of $120. If an application is filed for a Permit to Operate by reason of transfer of ownership from one person to another, or a change in the company's name to a Permit to Operate that had previously been granted, and no alteration, addition, or transfer of location has been made, the applicant shall pay a $65 filing fee.

Rule 302 – Rule requires a first year fee according to the equipment type and size to be paid before issuance of Authority to Construct. These fees will also be billed every year for renewal of Permit to Operate once construction is completed. It is determined that the cost of issuing permits, and of inspections pertaining to such issuance, exceeds the fees prescribed. In determining fees to be charged, applicable equipment within each process requiring a permit shall be totaled for each schedule. In the event that more than one fee schedule is applicable to a Permit to Operate, the governing schedule shall be that resulting in the higher fee.

Rule 303 – Rule requires an application processing fee for engineering analysis based on the number of hours spent completing the project. Emissions testing, CEQA document preparation, portable equipment inspections and preliminary consultation may require additional fees which will be determined by the Control Officer. Priority processing is also available and has a separate overtime hourly processing rate.

VII. RULE CONSISTENCY ANALYSIS

Pursuant to Section 40727.2 of the California Health and Safety Code, prior to adopting, amending, or repealing a rule or regulation, the District is required to perform a written analysis that identifies and compares the air pollution control elements of Draft Rule 301, 302, and 303 with the corresponding elements of existing or proposed District and EPA rules, regulations, and guidelines that apply to the same source category. Rule element that was analyzed was applicability.

Results of Consistency Analysis

District Rules

All facilities will be subject to 301, 302 and 303:

Rule 301, Permit Fees

Rule 302, Permit Fee Schedule

Rule 303, Miscellaneous Fees

VIII. ECONOMIC IMPACTS

Rule 301 - The economic impact on the applicants from the updates to Rule 301 are expected to be minimal. This change is necessary to appropriately cover administrative processing fees.

Rule 302 - As the amount of Solar Farms in Eastern Kern increase, the effect on the District and the surrounding communities increase. Solar Farms require the analysis of dust control plans, as well as best available control technology and monitoring, all which require processing time and engineering time. There has been a significant increase in the amount of staff time spent on these projects for investigating complaints, inspecting solar farm sites and approving dust mitigation plans. The addition of solar farms to Schedule 10 – Power Generation, Cogeneration and Resource Recovery Schedule will offset those costs, along with the addition of more defined terms in permits and monitoring requirements which may result in less violations and fees associated with these violations for the operator. Solar Farms can range widely in size and capacity but are usually projects with very large budgets, the new implementation of these fees are not expected to be a hindrance on the applicant compared to the total cost of the project.

For agricultural engines, the previous registration fee and process was cumbersome and not very explicit. The new fee schedule for agricultural engines will allow for fee schedule that is more consistent with the fees for other engines in the District. The proposed fee schedule for agricultural engines will be proportional to the size of the engine, unlike before. The applicant will also be subject to pay an hourly rate for the engineering analysis. Completing an analysis for agriculture engines is a more thorough and time intensive process than before. The previous registration fees did not accurately depict the amount of time it takes to process applications, travel to sites and inspect these units. Inspection fees are embedded in the registration fees. Time spent on these units currently exceed filing and registration fees.

The updates better represent the time for processing, engineering analysis and health risk assessment for each unit. Below is a comparison of current registration fees for agricultural engines, normal use engines and proposed agricultural engine fees. The same processing and inspections are necessary for Agricultural engines and normal use engines.

Comparison of current agricultural engine registration, current normal use engines, and proposed Rule 302, Schedule 11 – Ag Engine fees.

	Current Ag Engine Registration	Current Normal Use Engines	Proposed Ag Engine Registration
Filing Fee	$120.00	$120.00	$120.00
Engine Fee (4-300 HP)	$350.00	$1928.00	$964.00
4 Hour Engineering Analysis ($88/hr)	N/A	$704.00	$704.00
Total	$470.00	$2,752.00	$1,436.00

Rule 303 – There is a proposed increase of $12 in hourly rate of engineering analysis, which is less than a 14% increase. Each year the District only receives approximately $36,000 from engineering analysis fees, which only covers 1% of the department’s annual expenses. The increase will offset engineering time and increasing operating costs of the District.

IX. ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACTS

Both the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and ARB policy require an evaluation of the potential adverse environmental impacts of proposed projects. The intent of Draft Rules 301, 302 and 303 is to outline fee requirement of the District. An additional consideration is the impact that the proposed rule may have on the environment. District has determined that no significant adverse environmental impacts should occur as a result of adopting Draft Rules 301, 302 and 303.

Pursuant to the Section 15061, Subsections (2) & (3) of the CEQA Guidelines, staff will prepared and file a Notice of Exemption for this project upon adoption.

X. SOCIOECONOMIC IMPACTS

CHSC Section 40728.5 exempts districts with a population of less than 500,000 persons from the requirement to assess the socioeconomic impacts of proposed rules. Eastern Kern County population is below 500,000 persons.

XI. RULE APPROVAL PROCESS

District will be accepting written comments and concerns from persons interested in Draft Rule 301, 302 and 303 for a period of 30 days following the workshop on September 16, 2014. District anticipates Draft Rules 301, 302 and 303 will be considered for adoption by the Board at the November 2014 Board Hearing.

Such fee will be due if the increase in rating results in a higher applicable fee schedule. Where there is no change in such rating or applicable fee schedule, the applicant shall pay only the filing fee and application processing fee required herein.

V. Multiple Locations

When a permit has been issued to operate portable equipment at two or more locations, only one annual renewal fee shall be charged.
